Fire Prevention

The Fire Danger Season for this District - Flinders (Region 4) commences 1st November 2013 ends 15th April 2014

Fire Hazard Reduction

The fire season is nearly upon us once again and all indications are that this year will potentially be one of the worst on record. It is up to everyone to take every precaution possible to minimise the risk of fire.

Under the Fire and Emergency Services Act 2005, an owner of land must take reasonable steps to minimise the potential for fire out breaks on the land.

Section 105F of the Act states:
An owner of private land must take reasonable steps:

- To prevent or inhibit the outbreak of fire on the land and;
- To prevent or inhibit the spread of fire through the land;
- To protect property on the land from fire, and
- To minimise the threat to human life from a fire on the land.

Township property inspections will begin in the next two weeks. Will your property be Bush Fire Compliant? Maximum Penalty $5,000

Owners of all properties within townships are hereby required to take the following actions in relation to your residential and rural property in order to remedy the hazard:

- Reduce all flammable (or potentially flammable) grass and undergrowth over the entire allotment to less than 100mm 4") in height;
- Remove and properly dispose of any heaped flammable vegetation, grass, tree and shrub cuttings from the property;
- Remove any flammable material from around the building.

The responsibility to have your property cleared rests with you as the owner and if necessary you should contact an appropriate service provider to arrange clearance of your property.

Reporting a Fire or Emergency

000 EMERGENCY — Dial 000 in an Emergency

Stay on the line and give as much information as you can. Don't forget to tell the operator your name and phone number. They may wish to contact you again for more information or to assist with local knowledge.

CFS

Fire Restrictions

The Fire Danger Season will continue until 15th April 2014.

During this period, you must apply for a permit to use fire outdoors at any time.

There are some exceptions on non-fire ban days, notably barbecues, campfires, incinerators and some industrial processes such as gas and electric welding.

If you have any doubt about lighting any fire during the Fire Danger Season, ring the CFS Information Hotline:

1300 362 361.

The penalties for illegally lighting a fire are very severe. You face the possibility of incurring a fine of up to $10,000 or imprisonment for up to two (2) years.

Permits will be issued during the Fire Danger Season under the following conditions:

- For the purpose of burning off around buildings within townships - the time of burning is restricted to between the hours of 10.00 am and 3.00 pm excluding Sundays and Public Holidays.
- No permits will be issued from 1st December 2013 until 1st March 2014 for stubble burning.

Total Fire Bans

On days when extreme weather conditions (high wind and high temperature) could cause fires to become uncontrollable, Total Fire Bans may be declared in some fire ban districts or even across the whole State.

These bans will apply for 24 hours from midnight to midnight the following day. They are broadcast on radio and television from 6.00 pm. If in doubt check on the CFS Information Hotline - 1300 362 361.

Be aware that if extreme weather conditions develop suddenly, a Total Fire Ban could be announced as late as 7.00 am on the morning of the ban.

Total Fire Bans may also be removed at 7.00 am, where weather conditions have moderated considerably.

Both situations would be broadcast on radio and the CFS Information Hotline.

FIRE DANGER RATINGS

On certain days, bushfires that start will be much more dangerous.

Fire Danger Ratings are your early warning.

The rating is forecast each day during the Fire Danger Season to predict how a fire would behave if one started - including how difficult it would be to put out and what impacts it might have on the community.

The higher the Fire Danger Rating, the more dangerous the fire conditions.

The Fire Danger Rating table below explains what each rating means and what actions you should take for each level. Take the time to review and understand the chart.

The fire Danger Rating is not a predictor of how likely a bushfire is to occur, but how dangerous it could be if it did occur. It should be used as an early indicator to trigger your plans.

The Fire Danger Rating is issued after 4.00 pm daily for the following day and is usually broadcast as part of nightly news weather reports.

It is also available from the:
Bureau of Meteorology: www.bom.gov.au
CFS website: www.cfs.sa.gov.au

Fire Danger Rating	What Does It Mean?	What Should I Do?
Catastrophic TOTAL FIRE BAN	• These are the worst conditions for a bush or grass fire. • If a fire starts and takes hold, it will be extremely difficult to control and will take significant fire fighting resources and cooler conditions to bring it under control. • Spot fires will start well ahead of the main fire and cause rapid spread of the fire. Embers will come from many directions. • Buildings are not designed or constructed to withstand fires in these conditions. • The safest place is to be away from bushfire risk areas.	YOU NEED TO ACT NOW • Put your survival first and leave bushfire risk areas the night before or early in the day - this is your safest option. • Act immediately - do not wait and see. • Avoid forested areas, thick bush or long, dry grass. • Prepare, know and practise a plan for: - How will you respond to the FDR - How will you respond to an emergency warning for a bushfire - How will you respond to a bushfire given no warning - How will you communicate information - Who will be in charge
Extreme TOTAL FIRE BAN	• These are very hot, dry and windy conditions for a bush or grass fire. • If a fire starts and takes hold, it will be unpredictable, move very fast and be very difficult for fire fighters to bring under control. • Spot fires will start and move quickly. Embers will come from many directions. • Buildings that are prepared to the highest level, have been constructed to bushfire protection levels and are actively defended may provide safety. • You must be physically and mentally prepared to defend in these conditions. • The safest place is to be away from bushfire risk areas.	YOU NEED TO GET READY TO ACT • Only stay with your property if you are prepared to the highest level. This means your building needs to have been constructed to bushfire protection levels eg. enclosed eaves, covers over external air conditioners, metal flyscreens etc. • You must be well prepared and able to actively defend your building if a fire starts. This means you have the right equipment and resources to put out fires around your building eg. enough water supply, petrol/diesel portable pump, generator, protective clothing etc. • If you are not prepared to the highest level, leaving the bushfire risk areas early in the day is your safest option.
Severe TOTAL FIRE BAN	• These are hot, dry and possibly windy conditions for a bush or grass fire. • If a fire starts and takes hold, it will be hard for fire fighters to bring under control. • Well prepared buildings that are actively defended can provide safety. • You must be physically and mentally prepared to defend in these conditions.	YOU NEED TO BE AWARE • Well prepared buildings that are actively defended can provide safety. This means if you have the right training, equipment and resources to put out fires around your building eg. enough water supply, petrol/diesel portable pump, generator, protective clothing etc. • If you are not prepared, leaving the bushfire risk areas early in the day is your safest option.
Very High High Low - Moderate	• If a fire starts, it is likely to be controlled in these conditions and buildings can provide safety. • Be aware of how fires can start and reduce the risk.	• Check your Bushfire Survival Plan. • Monitor conditions. • Action may be needed.

Food Safety Information Sessions

Council's Environmental Health Practitioner, Mark Smith recently presented and ran Food Safety Information and Awareness sessions held at the Booleroo Centre District School, Home Economic Centre.

Food Safety sessions were well attended with around thirty food operators from various food businesses attending. Attendees travelled from all areas of the Flinders Shared Services, including DC Peterborough, DC of Orroroo and Carrieton, The Flinders Ranges District Council and the District Council of Mount Remarkable.

Catering for the two day event was undertaken by year 12 students from the School and the morning tea and lunch provided was well received by all.

The Local Government Association is currently running an Awareness Campaign to promote Council Community work being undertaken. Council agreed to the LGA filming of interviews relating to these Food Safety and Awareness information sessions. The LGA promotional material will be available in coming weeks at:

http://www.youtube.com/user/LocalGovSA

Councils Environmental Health Practitioner, Mark Smith continues to work collaboratively with schools, food businesses and all other community based and environmental health related operations.

It is proposed that Mark will be returning to a Peterborough Schools in the near future as there is continued interest from food business operators to attend these food safety information sessions and a great opportunity to involve students on food safety, environmental security and other environmental health topics.
